3000 MEALS AT two-bits each were served children this week at the Colma school's lunch room, which opened Monday, marking the first time the Jefferson Elementary School district has offered a hot lunch program. In the foreground is principal Bernard Gerdes observing the noon-time rush on opening day. Approximately 600 meals a day were served at 25 cents each, grossing an estimated $750 for the week. Cost of serving the meals was estimated at slightly more than 24 cents each, according to Mrs. Sanford Vickers, cafeteria manager. Meals are served in three shifts, with seventh grade dining at 11:35 a.m., kindergarten through sixth at 12 noon and eighth graders at 12:35 p.m. Six employees staff the cafeteria. Each day features a different menu for the youngsters and the many faculty members who patronize the lunch room.

Record Budget, $1,109,449, OK'D; City Tax Rate Held At $1.43 Per $100

Daly City's first million dollar budget was adopted by the city council Monday night and the tax rate was held at the same level as last year, $1.43 per $100 assessed valuation.

The total 1955-56 budget came to $1,109,449, of which the largest allocation, $187,667, was for the police department. This coming fiscal year's budget tops by nearly $100,000 the 1954-55 figure of $920,645.

The recreation and parks department received the biggest increase over the previous year, allocated $106,493, or nearly triple the 1954-55 figure of $45,785.

Mayor Joseph Verducci said capital outlay for Westlake park, Daly City community center and Frankfort park accounted for the sharp increase. A total of $31,000 will be spent at Westlake, $10,000 on the community center and $7192 for Frankfort. Salaries will account for $31,296, expenses, $15,515 and total capital outlay, $59,682.

Water Second High
The water department was granted the second highest budget, $183,314, a sharp increase over the $113,082 fund, although actual expenditures of the department last year came to $177,227, more than $84,000 above the budget allocation. This over-expenditure was a factor in creating the city's deficit earlier this year, which forced tight economy measures by the city in other departments.

The fire department was granted third high allocation, $111,783, as compared to $84,415 in 1954-55.

The parks fund of $104,945 ranked third, while next high category was the street department, with $72,416 ear-marked, followed by miscellaneous, $60,000.

Taxes Bring One-Third
About one-third of the city's revenue, $358,449, will come from property taxes, based on $1.43 per $100 valuation on a total assessed valuation of $25,103,635.

A breakdown of how the tax dollar is spent, with a comparison of the previous year, shows: General fund, 71 cents (93 cents in '54-55); 1950 recreation bond fund, 7 cents (10 cents in '54-55); 1952 fire protection fund, 4 cents (7 cents in '54-55); state employees' retirement fund, 11 cents (6 cents in '54-55); city library, 8 cents (6 cents in '54-55); park fund, 42 cents (11½ cents in '54-55).

Following is a total breakdown of the budget: City council, $6400; city attorney, $5850, auditing, $1500; advertising and promotion, $3000; city clerk, $22,757; city treasurer, $4660; city manager, $26,452; accounting department, $10,695; license bureau, $3650; P.B.X., $9210; general government.

Only three citizens had anything to say about the $1,109,449 budget passed Monday night by the city council.

Don Lesher, president of Hillside Improvement association, inquired if the park fund would include allocations for areas which now have no recreation facilities, such as the southeastern Daly City section.

Mayor Joseph Verducci said no money had been allocated to buy land in that area, but pointed out that the nearby Colma school offered an ideal site for children's recreation. He said it was the city's policy to try and use school land for recreation whenever possible to avoid "duplication of facilities."

Verducci said that if the school would allow use of the land, the city would supervise the play area with trained personnel.

Kirchhabel Comments
George Kirchhabel, a regular visitor to the council chambers, was second to question the budget, asking the council if any funds were depleted at the end of the 1954-55 fiscal year.

City Manager Howard Stites answered that such information was on file at the city clerk's office as a matter of record.

Stites continued by explaining that last year the budget was

DC Citizens Group Seeks Use City Hall

Change of meeting places to the city hall to bolster sagging attendance was approved Wednesday night by the Better Government for Daly City group, convening at Little Italy hall, 6219 Mission street.

Wednesday's session of the newly-formed political group aimed at overthrowing the council and undoing that body's "injustices," was scheduled to get underway at 8 p.m., but did not open until after 9 p.m., with 13 persons present.

On motion of City Treasurer Paul Selmi, the Better Government group will ask approval of city council to use the city hall chambers for their sessions. Meeting dates will still be held on the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

"No Indication"
Despite the slight attendance Wednesday, attributed by the group to the championship fight, Selmi said, "This is by no means an indication of the public's feeling. Everybody I've spoken to is bitter about the way these people (the council) are acting."

He claimed that while attending the League of California Cities convention in San Francisco this week he spoke to "one or two councilmen from other cities who seem sympathetic to our side. When we really get started, we'll go like wildfire."

Although little business was transacted at the meeting, the group held informal discussion on alleged grievances committed by the council and on methods for combating them.

Selmi said further that the council's action in "firing the police and fire commissions and Dave Johnstone Jr. are the same tactics used by a dictator" to enforce authority. "They mow down 10 persons so thousands of others will quake with fear," he said.

Employees Answer
In answer to an invitation by the Better Government group to attend their meetings, a letter from the Daly City Employees association was read.

MAP NEW B'MOOR JITNEY RUN

A revised jitney route to serve the Broadmoor area was mapped Tuesday night at a meeting between George Ferris, Northgate Transit Co. business manager, and Jack Baker, president of the Broadmoor Property Owners association.

Under the old route the jitneys would travel down Stonyford to Larchmont, down to MacArthur drive to Washington, out Washington to Junipero Serra boulevard and into Daly City.

Under the proposal discussed Tuesday, every other vehicle, after reaching Junipero Serra, would travel north on the boulevard and make a return trip through Broadmoor by way of 87th street, over Maddux and into Westlake. Alternate vehicles would continue from Junipero Serra into Daly City.

This route would "cover all of Broadmoor nicely," Baker said. Ferris said he would submit the route to his company and, if approved, would forward it to the state public utilities commission.

Reach Settlement In False Arrest Case Against Cops

An out-of-court settlement of $500 was reached Tuesday in a false arrest and assault and battery case involving two Daly City police officers for an incident that allegedly occurred on May 2, 1953.

Eduardo Larios, 48 Alexander, Daly City, claims that he was bruised from blows rained on him in his home on that date by Sgt. Dave Hansen and Officer Gerald Schaeffer, who claimed that Larios had failed to pay his fare with a Yellow Cab Co. vehicle.

Larios, represented by Attorney Thomas Markley, had sought $10,000 in damages. Settlement was reached Tuesday before the case went into San Francisco municipal court, with the cab firm making the payment to Larios.

The officers and Larios told contrasting stories. According to the policemen, they answered the cab company's request for aid with a passenger who refused to pay his fare.

On arrival, officers said, Larios was violent, struck out at them, and had to be subdued to prevent bodily injury to themselves and property damage.

Larios claims he was worked over by the policemen in his own home.

City Attorney Frank Blum, representing the officers, flatly denied Larios story and said the settlement was made by the company merely to dispose of the case. Joe Leonard represented the Yellow Cab Co.

TAX REDUCTION IN B'MOOR COP DISTRICT

Tax rate for the Broadmoor Police district has been lowered nearly 12 cents per $100 valuation, the county assessor's office revealed today.

In approving a $34,614 budget for the 1955-56 fiscal year, the county board of supervisors passed on a tax rate of 45½ cents per $100 valuation, as compared to the 57 cents per $100 levied last year.

For the homeowner whose property is assessed at $3000, this will mean a saving in property taxes of approximately $3.45 per year. The county was able to lower the rate because of the increase in the district's assessed valuation and because the district had a

B'MOOR ARTIST STIRS HUBBUB WITH "MCSMEAR"

Vice President Richard M. Nixon on this week defended Broadmoor artist Victor M. Arnautoff's caricature of him in a color lithograph and said he had every right to satirize him.

Arnautoff, who lives at 1007 Washington street, had submitted a color lithograph of Nixon, entitled "Dick McSmear," for display at the San Francisco Art Festival.

The work depicted a stumpy figure, masked and carrying a paint bucket and a pumpkin. Arnautoff said it was a "political comment on McCarthyism."

After being on display several days, Arnautoff's entry was banned from the Festival, on order of the president of the San Francisco art commission, who said public figures should not be caricatured in a publically financed art exhibition.

SEAMAN "LEAVES HIS MARK" ON TWO DALY CITY POLICE OFFICERS

All in the line of duty were injuries suffered Tuesday night by Police Officers Gerald Schaeffer and George Brooks. Both were treated at Junipero Serra hospital for "human bites" on the hands.

The man who inflicted the teeth marks on the officers was John J. O'Halloran, 25, 363 Willets street, a seaman, who was booked on three counts following the scuffle with the two officers. Charges filed against O'Halloran were: drunk in and about a public place, disturbing the peace and assault and battery.

Schaeffer and Brooks were called to the seaman's house by his wife who said she wanted to prevent O'Halloran from driving his car. She told officers that her husband had been drinking "wine and beer all day."

When police arrived they said they found the seaman sitting in the driver's seat of his car which was still parked in the garage. With the appearance of the officers, O'Halloran left the car and walked out to the sidewalk where Schaeffer and Brooks were standing.

He started to swear and then turned to biting and kicking the two officers, they said. Even after O'Halloran had been placed under arrest and was on his way to the police car to jail, Schaeffer was still not safe. According to his report, he received another swift kick in the leg.

Both officers are back on duty despite the injuries.

CARBON FUMES CLAIM LIFE OF EX-NAVY CHIEF

A 61-year-old retired navy chief petty officer committed suicide by carbon monoxide in his Daly City home Tuesday.

The body of Gerald Edmund Roots, 74 West Cavour street, was found slumped in his parked car by Miss Julianne W. Jansen, a teacher at Jefferson Union High school.

Miss Jansen, who has an apartment in the basement of the Roots home, told police that she found Roots' body about 3:25 p.m. upon her return from school. She said that she heard a radio playing and at first thought that she had left the radio on in her car, which was parked next to the Roots' auto.

After checking her car, she glanced into the other vehicle and saw Roots lying on the front seat with his head near the steering wheel.

"I thought that maybe he had fallen asleep while listening to the radio in his car," Miss Jansen told Inspector Bruno Conci.

Requests $300,000 Over
The total budget adopted was more than $300,000 less than the total $1,360,823 requested by all departments.

Verducci said the "budget is as close as possible to a performance budget. I think the people are getting as much for the tax dollar as possible." The mayor said he "was sorry we couldn't give the department heads as much as they had requested," but pointed out that the council had to make a choice between manpower and capital expenditures for recreation.

Councilman Michael De Bernardi termed this year's budget one with a "forward look," featuring "streamlined bookkeeping and factors that would save time and money, yet grant more services."

Councilman Edward Dennis said it was "gratifying that we were able to hold the tax rate" and yet still adopt a budget calling for a "bigger and better" Daly City.

Control of Monies
Councilman Sanford Vickers said the new budgetary system would give much better control of monies spent. "We've stepped ahead of ourselves," he said. "Now each department head can know from day to day how his finances stand."

"We'll continue to find new revenues without having to raise the tax rate," said Councilman Del Wilson. He said this year's budget was "better than ever." City Manager Howard Stites declared the budget would prevent a recurrence of the city's financial plight in 1954-55, when departments spent more money than was called for in their budget because the department heads didn't know where they stood.

Revenue Sources
In addition to the property taxes, the city gave the following estimates for other sources of revenue: Current unsecured taxes, $12,500; refuse collection, $50,000; court fines, $46,000; delinquent taxes, $3000; gas and electric franchise, $20,000; building and other permits, $67,000; licenses, $30,000; tax reports, $2000; engineering department, $25,000; North San Mateo County Sanitation district, $3000; State reimbursement for highway maintenance, $3000; miscellaneous revenue, $3000; interest on time deposits, $2500; water sales, $290,000; water meter charges, $32,000.

These above sources contribute $598,000 to the city's revenue. The remainder, not including property taxes, comes from the following sources: State auto in lieu tax, $108,000; state alcohol beverage tax, $17,000; special state gas tax, $28,000, for a total of $153,000 in state apportionments. This year's budget revealed that total expenditures for the city during 1954-55 came to $966,236, or more than $45,000 above the amount budgeted, $920,645.

Daly City Citizens Seek Use City Hall

Written by John Walsh, president of the letter said, "We thank you for your invitation, but must decline." Walsh pointed out that under the state code and local ordinance, an employee is not allowed to participate in local political gatherings.

Walsh said however, that his group was "interested in better government for Daly City." Arthur Bodien, president of the Better Government group, told those present that, "I, as a lifetime member of the employees association, attended their recent meeting and they are much concerned about this whole thing. They are heart and soul for better government."

Steve Passifiume, local elementary school district employee, said "All the city employees I've met have asked me to come up and attend your meetings."

"Must Be Television"
"They're all of the same opinion," continued Bodien. All the people are interested but they won't attend meetings. It must be television or something."

Selmi predicted that by meeting at city hall, the group would increase its attendance a great deal. "The people are afraid to come here, because if someone sees them come in, they know definitely where they're going. Anybody can walk into city hall." Bodien drew laughter from the group when he related a conversation with a citizen: "He asked me 'what happens to the old city

"overdrawn" because personnel unauthorized in the budget were hired, but said 75 per cent of the losses were "re-couped" before the end of the fiscal year by close control over spending.

Kirchhubel argued that, "If you need people this year, you'll put them on anyway. I don't care what the budget says. Good government is based on intelligent spending."

Contingency Fund
The mayor added that, "We'll try to have a contingency fund to take care of any shortage."

Kirchhubel's closing remark was that, "You've got a lot to learn, Joe."

Hugh Smith Jr., local motel owner and son of the former mayor, asked the council if any consideration had been given to recent state legislation which provided for forming assessment districts in areas such as Westlake where recreation projects were necessary.

He said he was referring to "The amount of money that's going into that hole-in-the-ground in Westlake," meaning the Westlake park.

"Personally, I don't agree with you," the mayor answered. "And I don't like the reference to the hole-in-the-ground. We're trying to have a unified area and when people of your caliber try to divide us, we're in trouble. We don't try to differentiate. All the people of Daly City will use Westlake park."

Lesher, interjected that he also thought Smith was "trying to split the town."

Smith explained that his idea would help recreation, because the people in the area affected would vote for bond issues on the projects, whereas a vote of the entire town would defeat the bonds.

Baker said he thought his association would "get aggressively behind the jitney group." He revealed that some citizens are already circulating petitions backing the jitneys and indicated that the association will stand behind the movement to gain more signatures for presentation to the PUC.

Originally, the BPOA had backed Burt Perkins Westmoor Transit Line, a commute bus service, but Perkins was denied a certificate to operate by the PUC.

employees?", then answered "they don't die, they just get Stitted away."

City Manager Howard Stites was the subject of conversation again when Mrs. Selmi said, "The latest rumor is that Stites is applying for a manager job in Reno, Nev."

Stites Laughs
Contacted by THE RECORD Thursday, Stites laughed when confronted with the question, "There's no truth to that," he said. "They already have a city manager who was appointed some time ago. I did not make application for any job there and do not intend to."

The Johnstone firing became topic again when the ousted inspector's sister, Mrs. Grace Baci-galupi, repeated a conversation she allegedly had with Councilman Del Wilson, who refused to vote on the firing last week.

"Wilson told me this case should never have gone this far and that it could have been stopped if Chief Petroch hadn't sent that letter to the council," she said. Selmi added that Wilson once told him, "We don't care if he's guilty or not. We've got to make him a guinea pig."

Honked Horn
The teacher related that she returned to her car and honked the horn in an attempt to wake Roots. When she received no response, she called the police.

When Inspector Conci and Officer Edmond Heim arrived at the scene, they discovered that Roots' wife, Blanche, was babysitting at a Broadmoor home. She arrived home at 6:10 p.m.

Mrs. Roots told the officers she had left home about 9 a.m. that morning and that her husband had "appeared to be in good spirits." She added, however, that her husband had been under a doctor's care for heart trouble until June when he took up Christian Science reading.

Used Water Hose
According to Conci, Roots apparently committed suicide by fastening an eight-foot water hose to the rear of the exhaust and bringing it through the right rear window of the car.

Besides his wife, Roots is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Roy Johnson, a son, Gerold Edmund Jr., both of Concord; sisters, Mrs. Fay Martin and Mrs. Lois Burkhardt. He was the grandfather of Clifford, Constance, Gerold and Linda Johnson.

POLITICS OR NOT, TAX RATE'S SAME

While some term it a "cunning pre-election political trick," the city council has managed to hold the tax rate at $1.43 per $100 assessed valuation, while adopting a whopping budget that passed the million-dollar mark for the first time.

"Cunning political trick" or not, we'll take last year's rate in preference to an increase.

But citizens will still be paying a little more for their government in this fiscal year, since the 25-cents per month discount on prompt payment of water bills will be eliminated.

Whether this will prove an economy measure will be revealed after the new system is put into effect, but officials estimate that this will create $18,000 a year in new revenue for the city.

Daly City's budget picture for the year couldn't by any interpretation be labeled "bright," but if this new "performance" system of allocating money proves successful, there won't be any repeats of last year's deficit financing, when the city wound up spending more than $40,000 than had been budgeted.

All departments will be operating on an absolute minimum budget, but this is nothing new—nearly every city finds itself in the same position at one time or another.

The important thing is that department allocations aren't reduced to an amount where important services are curtailed. From perusal of the budget, we don't think the city will find itself in that spot, at least for this year.

But with the passage of Daly City's first million-dollar plus budget Monday, it is evident that this municipality is going to wage a continuing battle to keep the ocre of high taxes cut down to size.

Right now the council is casting about for new forms of revenue to keep the city coffers solvent. Some of these proposals will undoubtedly prove workable, while some others already discussed have prospects of being highly unpopular.

The course this or other councils must take in the future for financing this burgeoning community may well be revealed in the workings of this year's performance budget.

It's not costing the citizens much more in taxes, but we'll withhold final judgment until we see the services rendered.

Dear Editor:

With Columbus Day approaching, did you know that on the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus, a special commemorative U. S. half dollar was struck by the Philadelphia mint. With a portrait of Columbus on the obverse side.

These half dollars were minted in 1892 and 1893 and sold at the Chicago World Fair, this being the commemorative coin to be struck in the U. S. Also in 1893 a U. SSF TRUCK DRIVER ASKS TRIAL ON DRUNK DRIVE COUNT

A 40-year-old South San Francisco truck driver, arrested here on a charge of drunk driving on September 3, pleaded not guilty in municipal court Tuesday. His request for trial was set by Judge Thomas L. Bocci on October 6.

Frank B. Illsley, 212 Bonita Way, South San Francisco, was apprehended by Sergeant August Benassini and Officer George Brooks at the entrance to Olivet Memorial cemetery. The policemen reported that they were hailed by a motorist who told them of a driver speeding down Mission street.

The officers said that they were forced into a 70-mile-an-hour chase before catching Illsley. A sobriety test at Junipero Serra hospital proved positive.

Information on military obligations and the advantages of Navy service to men and women of this area. The office will provide Navy representatives on request to talk to individuals, family groups, schools, and business or social clubs. Recent changes in selective service laws have created a need for professional advice for young men faced with military service.

Military service need not be considered as "lost time," Chief Mele added. Many advantages such as training, education, and security are available in the service, and the Navy has many programs open to both men and women wishing to enlist or apply for officer commissions.

The official opening Friday night at the George Lagomarsino Elg, will be attended by various city officials, Navy officers, and members of the Fleet Reserve. The Twelfth Naval District band will play for the public between 7:30 and 9 p.m.

Thieves Gain Nearly $400 In Two Burglaries

Two burglaries here Friday night netted thieves almost $400. The burglaries occurred at Hammar's Service station, 6098 Mission street, and at the B & G Grocery and Gus' Meat market, 584 Hillside boulevard.

Police suspect that the two jobs were pulled by the same men. As developed by Police Inspector Bruno Conci, the burglars entered the grocery store first, and upon gaining only $30, decided to burglarize the service station, where this time their haul was $343.91.

Apparently the burglars entered the market through a rear window of the building but attempted to disguise their method of entry by jimmying an iron grill on another window.

The gas station burglary apparently was accomplished by persons having knowledge of the complex safe operation, police believe.

Two suspects are now being traced.

CHARGE CARPENTER WITH PASSING 2 BUM CHECKS AT MARKET

A 25-year-old local carpenter is scheduled to appear in municipal court next Tuesday on charges of passing two bum checks at the Town and Country market, 395 South Mayfair avenue.

Arrested Saturday by local police was Glen H. Kenison, 25, 551 Vista Grande avenue. He was released Sunday on $250 bail.

The complaint against Kenison was filed by Vincent J. Nevolo, owner of the market. Nevolo claims that Kenison passed the checks, amounting to a total value of $39.19, on July 16 and July 25.

Kenison also was arrested at the same time on a San Francisco traffic warrant and paid bail of $24.

MERCHANT SAILOR FOUND GUILTY ON SIX DC CHARGES

A 42-year-old merchant seaman was found guilty Tuesday by Municipal court Judge Thomas L. Bocci of six charges, all filed against him by Daly City police the previous day.

Found guilty was Alfred Peterson, 42, Seaman's unit, Rincon Annex, San Francisco. Charges were drunk driving, driving without an operator's license, improper registration, failure to heed the officer's siren, speeding and driving in the wrong lane of traffic.

Peterson was arrested Monday at 12:45 a.m. after he was seen boozing down Mission street. When officers took up the chase, Peterson gained speed until he was forced over to the side of the street.

In the car with Peterson were a San Francisco man and woman and the woman's three small children who were huddled in the back seat. The passengers were released by the officers.

Peterson was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail suspended on condition that he pay a $250 fine. He was granted a 10-day stay of execution.

Cops To Investigate Vandalism At Church On Hanover St. Here

Sandry. The pastor reported the vandalism after he found a broken window on the east side of the church on Sunday. He also showed police officers knife marks on the front door and side of the church.

"Rude and annoying" children have bothered him for some time, the reverend said. However, he claimed that actual damage was done while the church was vacant.

News From Here & There

By Eleanor Doyle

Belated wishes to Ann and Owen MacNealy of Abbot, who both celebrated birthdays last week. Ann's beautiful orchid had us all very envious.

I hear that the cafeteria at the Colma school is getting a good turn out. The menus the children have brought home certainly sound very tasty.

Hostess for a recent birthday club meeting was Mrs. Florence Burger of Winston Manor. Mrs. Connie Nofziger was the recipient of many gifts, a wee bit early for her birthday which she will actually celebrate next month. But this group really do things differently. A wonderful time was had by all.

Seems like our list of working mothers is really growing. My spys from here and there sent me the following names: Mrs. Carney of East Vista, Mrs. Owens from Vista Grande and the newest one is Mrs. Eleanor Hnilo of Railroad avenue. These three women have been active in various groups and they will really be missed.

The latest little one to part with her tonsils is Barbara Edgeman of B street in Colma.

Belated birthday wishes to the following, who all reside in the Sterling Park tract. . . Diane Roach who celebrated her twelfth birthday. Shirley Rosaia who with a group of her young friends celebrated her big day with a lovely party, with all attending having a wonderful time. . . Many happy returns to a wonderful mother, Virginia Carr, of C street.

How those Stanley Party's do get around. Mrs. Gerry Staten of 540 B street, Colma, was hostess to the latest given in that tract.

All the gang from B street attended and everyone enjoyed a swell evening. The Statens will very shortly be leaving the neighborhood and heading for Santa Clara.

Kind of late but congratulations to the Bob Lapachets of 606 Orange who just celebrated their fourth year of happiness.

Takes Cast Off
Amil Hnilo of Railroad is getting around much better these days, finally parted company with a cast after eight weeks. His ankle is much better, but he will not be able to go back to work for awhile.

One of my spies also tells me that Martin Strubel of Vista Grande just celebrated his birthday.

Glad to hear that Bill Hutchings of Moltke is home, after spending five weeks in the French hospital. We're all pulling for you Bill, so hope you're off the sick list soon.

Welcome home to the Hueloes of Abbot, who just returned from a three week vacation in Chicago. They say it was very hot back there and are quite happy to be home to enjoy the (cool) weather.

Paul Alabona, who is still stationed in Korea, is keeping quite busy these days teaching typing and English. His mom, who resides at 75 Crocker, really misses him.

The Davies of Garwood also just returned back from a trip to Colorado and Wyoming, visiting with Mr. Davies' family. Mom, who has been a working gal, is thinking of becoming a lady of leisure.

I hear that Lorraine Herrick, who is district President of the American Legion enjoyed her visit to the unit the other evening. (Continued on Page 4)

DALY CITY DRIVER AIDS IN CAPTURE BURGULARY SUSPECT

A Daly City man was responsible for the capture of a suspected burglar last weekend.

George Pulaez, 21 Risel street, a circulation driver for a metropolitan newspaper, was on his rounds shortly after dawn Sunday when he heard the crash of breaking glass at the Safeway store at San Jose avenue and Alemany boulevard.

Observing a man coming out of the store, Pulaez jumped out of his truck and struggled with the suspect, calling for police.

The man finally broke away from Pulaez, but police were on the scene minutes later and found the man, Edward E. Fitzgerald, 23, of 155 Goethe street, in the bushes not far away. He was holding a case of cigarettes police say came from the store.

Fitzgerald is on probation from a 1950 burglary charge.

FIRST AID FOR CHROME

The chrome trim on automobiles is one of the first things to deteriorate if it is not cared for regularly. This is particularly true in coastal areas where the moist air often contains minute particles of salt. Regular washing and waxing is the best way to combat corrosion of chrome surfaces, says the California State Automobile Association.

3RD PISTOL SHOOT SET FOR COLMA

Competition Open To Law Groups In Mateo County

Some several thousand rounds of ammunition will streak through the Colma terrain on October 23 when the third annual San Mateo County Sheriff's and Police Championship pistol matches are held at the range of Ray Ottoboni, Colma mayor.

Competition on the Camp Perry course, will be held in four matches, and the Daly City police team ranks as a strong contender in two of them.

In the first match which is open to all competition, Daly City will be shooting for the Ottoboni perpetual trophy. Prizes will be awarded on a team basis.

The local team is also tabbed as the one to beat in the second match, open to regular officers' teams only.

Special Shoot
The third match will be a special competition between chiefs of police, the sheriff and the California Highway Patrol captain from this area. Judge Thomas L. Bocci will also enter the firing, but will compete only against Sheriff Earl Whitmore. Whitmore is the defending champion, while Broadmoor's Chief Ray Savage placed third last year.

Reserves, special and deputy officers will compete on a team basis in the fourth match. Climaxing the day's shooting will be the fifth part of the program, the individual championship match and two champions will be named, one regular officer and one special officer.

Scores fired by regular officers in matches 1 and 2 will be tallied and the man with high tally will be crowned champion, while special officers' tallies will be tallied for matches 3 and 4.

Individual scores only will count in this final contest.

"One of Largest"

Ottoboni bills this annual shooting event as one of the largest ever held in Northern California and claims that there will be more trophies per competitor than at any match ever held in the state.

Firing begins at 9 a.m. Entry fee is $1.50, which covers all matches and any member of a San Mateo county law enforcement agency is eligible. Refreshments will be served throughout the day.

Persons or firms seeking to donate trophies may contact Ottoboni.

Rear-end Auto Mishap

Two San Francisco drivers were involved in a minor accident Sunday afternoon at 92nd street and Junipero Serra boulevard, near Broadmoor.

Police said the mishap occurred when Alfred Camozzi, 55, of 1141 6th avenue, backed his car, of 1141 6th avenue, onto the boulevard. Herman Reber, 51, of 2136 Grove street, was travelling south on the boulevard and his vehicle collided with the rear of Camozzi's.

There were no injuries and neither driver was cited.

SAFE FOLLOWING

A lot of otherwise good drivers have one consistent failing—they follow the car ahead too closely. You should allow at least one car length between your car and the one ahead for every ten miles of speed, says the California State Automobile Association. Three car lengths if you're traveling thirty, four car lengths if you're doing forty, and so on.

TURNING ON HIGHWAY

If you must turn around on the highway, the California State Automobile Association advises you to do it this way: Drive along until no hills or curves obstruct your view of oncoming traffic from either direction for at least two hundred yards. Pull off on the shoulder, look both ways and make your turn. If the highway is very narrow, look for a crossroad or access road to pull into and then make your turn.

THE TOWN RECORD

The kids really take their jobs seriously.

JOHN SAKALDASIS, dispenser of coffee, good will and good eats at his Daly City Coffee Shop, is home resting after being released from St. Luke's hospital last week, where he was confined three days following a heart attack.

His family reports he'll be back on the job soon.

Undercurrent: There's some bad feeling among parents because of a switch in personnel at two of the elementary schools.

JOE SARTO, sponsor of hundreds of youth athletic teams here, has decided, after a year out of the sports picture, to back a group of 12-16 year-old players under his name. They will compete in a San Francisco league.

LOWELL CREIGHTON JR., the youthful pitching sensation from Jeff Hi who started off with a bang for the S. F. Seals, later cooled off, plans to be back with the local club again next year. Meanwhile, he's got his application in for a job in the DC water department.

SUTTER'S FORT
Sutter's Fort in Sacramento was built in 1839, reports the California State Automobile Association.

Prentice, Grubb, Kihs Are Hailed By McGrath As Jeff Grid Opener Nears

The hard running of Tex Prentice and the play of Bob Grubb and Herman Kihs in the line bolstered Coach Joe McGrath's hopes today as the first football contest of the season for Jefferson High school loomed only seven days ahead on the calendar.

The Indians will face a rugged Serra team here next Friday in a practice game. The parochial outfit waxed the Jeffs, 32-0, last year but don't promise to be as rough this time.

Prentice returned to the lineup Monday, after missing a week of practice while he was away on a Marine Reserve outing. According to McGrath, Prentice will probably move right into the first club, probably ousting Lee Castaneda. Harold Funkhouser, who also made the Marine trek with Prentice, is finding it a little more difficult to make himself a first string job, as Jerry Howard, a transfer here, is showing up well in the half-back slot.

McGrath's charges have been exceptionally lucky on the injury list, with the only accident a broken toe suffered Tuesday by Jayvee Al Howard. Prentice received a slight cut over his eye the same day, but it was not serious.

Influenza, however, has cut in to the Jefferson ranks, with five players out and McGrath, himself, narrowly missing sick bay with the flu bug.

They'll all be game-ready by next week, McGrath prophesies. The Indians have been undergoing hard scrimmages daily this week, with each phalanx running through six or seven plays.

"At least we're not starting from scratch," said Tony Giammona, taking over the frosh-soph football coaching reins for the first time at Jeff High school last week.

Reminiscing about last year's team, which won half of its games, 4-4, Giammona wouldn't say if things were going to be better this year, but he certainly wasn't pessimistic about his club, which includes a roster of 45, of which 27 are sophomores, 14 have seen some football action and 10 are lettermen.

Coach Tony has picked a tentative first string for his PAL opener next Thursday against Sequoia at Redwood City.

The backfield will be strengthened by return of Paul Tapia, quarterback, and Reuben Martinez, left half, while the line's veteran performer will be Bob Barry, first string right end last year.

Giammona lost three of last year's standouts who are now juniors and vying for varsity posts. They include Rich Duncan, center; George Domenici, back; and Mike White, fullback.

Aside from these departures, "We've got something to work with from last year," Giammona commented. He described his starting 11 as "good."

A total of 90 prospects greeted Giammona last week, but the number was distilled down to 51, and six more were scheduled to go this week, making a travelling squad of 45.

This is the first season of frosh-soph duty for Giammona, who last year assisted Joe McGrath with the varsity. Ernie Ribera tutored the FS club in '54. Assisting Giammona are Lou Martin and

I might as well sell my two and three iron!

How often these words have been repeated by the beginner or high handicapped golfer. For that matter you will occasionally hear it from many of the better players. The main complaint is lack of distance.

The fault:
Starting the club head back far too quick and too upright.

The correction:
Start the clubhead back very low along the ground, and start it back slow. The two and three iron must be taken back the same way that the woods are taken back. That is, with a completely full backswing. Play the ball about off the left heel, so that you will hit the ball more on the up swing thereby helping you to follow the ball in flight longer.

Remember:
A fast backswing does nothing toward getting more distance. It will more often cause loss of control of the club. Naturally without control of the club there is little chance of hitting the ball solid. Thus loss of distance, and accuracy.

Next week:
I was going good till I got in that trap.

Bob Silvestri Makes Bid In State Golf

Qualifying with a sizzling 142 around the foreboding Pebble Beach and Cypress Point lay-outs, Daly City's Bob Silvestri won his opening match in the state amateur golf tournament Wednesday and moved within at least striking distance of his second state crown.

Silvestri, Daly City bocce ball impresario, the 1952 state champ, put down Oakland policeman Bob George, 4 and 3, on the Pebble Beach course.

First Week Leaders Take Dumping In DC Bowling Play

All the opening week leaders except Paul's Flowers took a dumping Tuesday in the second week of Daly City-Colma Bowling league action at Brentwood.

Del Fehl's 555 series was not enough to offset the power of Carlos Pizzera, as they turned back San Pedro lunch three straight. J. Harill led Carlos with a 507 series.

Vince & Fred's were dumped twice by Paul's Flowers, who maintained leadership with a 5-1 record. R. Raggio's 232 high game and 547 series proved the margin of victory for Paul's. Babe DeLuca's 200 game and 516 series was tops for the losers.

Another first-week leader, Westlake Homes, was dropped twice by Ralph's Cleaners, despite Dick Keefe's 200 game and 524 trio and Hank Amstutz 514 series.

Thur Meat Co. took three from Daly City Cleaners to move into a tie for second. The big factors in the sweep were George Curry's Silvestri combined rounds of 73 and 70 on Monday and Tuesday at the Cypress Point and Pebble Beach links to qualify in a tie for second at 143. Medalist honors went to John Dawson and Tom Draper, both with 141s.

Art Linhares, Daly City policeman, who qualified in the championship flight with a 155, was vanquished Wednesday by Ted Gleichman of Ventura, 2-1.

Linhares shot rounds of 78 and 77 to qualify.

Match rounds continued Thursday and Friday, with the 36-hole semi-finals on Saturday and another 36 holes for Sunday's finals.

series.

Luce Meat also shared second as 220 game and high series of 582 and Frank Thur's 200 game, 575 they made a triple killing over Starway.

JEFF HARRIERS BOUNTIFUL -- 46 SHOW FOR TEAM

They're gluttons for punishment at Jefferson High school!

At least the turnout of 46 youngsters for the cross-country track team last week would so indicate.

Ernie Ribera, who coaches the youngsters in the gruelling competition, said the turnout this year far exceeds any, previous sign-up.

But Ribera's strength is in numbers only, as out of the more than two-score prospects, only one, George Grasso, was a competitor on the first team last year.

Ribera had expected Rich Fambri, his number two man last year behind Jim Rector, to return, but Fambri elected to join the Navy instead of finishing his senior year.

Besides Grasso, Ribera has six other youngsters who look to be capable at the marathon grind. They are Andy Estigoy, Bob Millward, Ken Cooper, James Taylor, Amil Toscanelli and George Bullwinkle.

After this group, Ribera has about 13 other runners who have potentialities.

While none of the cross-country boys are exceptional enough to annex many firsts, the Jeff coach says he'll have good team strength which is what counts in the meets.

The season opens next Thursday at Golden Gate park when the Indian harriers will face Lincoln of San Francisco in a practice meet starting at 3 p.m. First league meet is October 7 at Carlmont, in between halves of the Jeff-Carlmont football game.
